In Lead Like Fred, Follow Like Ginger: Leading in a Multi-Cultural World you'll learn to understand and use a variety of cross-cultural leadership styles to effectively lead and manage your ethnically diverse workforce. You'll create a personal checklist to help you implement what you've learned.

In Making Your Team Work you'll learn what makes and sustains great teams and how to gently coax your existing team(s) towards greater successes. You'll develop an action plan to help your team back home.

In Shut Up and Communicate you'll discover essential (although not obvious) tools for effective communications and practice them in this highly interactive workshop. You'll take home a list of do's and avoids that really works.

In Breakthroughs in Work/life Balance you'll learn to use the Personal Resource Model to help you, your team and your organization accomplish more and deplete less each day.
